

Date: 12th June 2019
Publication: The Scotsman
Circulation: 16,349
Pages: 35

Scots lose jobs in construction

Employment in the Scottish construction industry dropped by 8,000 in the first quarter to reach its lowest level since June 2017.

The industry also recorded a decline in annual output of more than £1 billion.

Industry trade body Scottish Building Federation pointed to "continuing tough trading conditions" and weakened economic confidence as hampering investment.